

Laykold® – the acrylic sports surface for top performance

Laykold® – the acrylic sports surface for top performance

World market leaders with years of experience and over 100,000 installations: Laykold's acrylic sports surface systems.

Laykold® systems are durable all-weather hard-court coatings that win over players and fans alike with their excellent playability and colourful appearance. One of the five available Laykold® systems can be selected: from the economical Laykold® ColorCoat to the Laykold® Masters 8 for tournament level performance.

Laykold® has been used for high profile tennis tournaments, including the Miami Open and the FED Cup in Nashville. Laykold® systems are also effective as multifunctional courts (including basketball, volleyball, football and roller sports) and also for school sports.

Find more information here: www.melos.com/laykold

About Melos GmbH:

Melos develops and produces coloured rubber granules and system components, e.g. for artificial grass pitches, stadium running tracks, multi-functional sports fields and playing areas. It also produces individual tailored industrial compounds that are primarily used in the cable industry, the automotive sector, and many more. The team of over 200 staff supports installation companies all over the world with their technical knowledge, products, and services from the Melle site in Lower Saxony – and has been doing so since more than 80 years. For more information see: www.melos-gmbh.com

Contact person:

Melos GmbH
Anne-Marie Böwer
anne-marie.boewer@melos-gmbh.com
Bismarckstraße 4-10
49324 Melle | Germany

Phone +49 5422 9447 465

Fax +49 5422 5981

E-Mail anne-marie.boewer@melos-gmbh.com